ABSTRACT

A followup survey of 1,128 1971 graduates from trade, industrial, and health education programs at five secondary schools in North Dakota used a 27-item questionnaire and obtained responses from 852 graduates. Questions covered: (1) employment experiences, (2) evaluation of the vocational programs, and (3) recommendations for improving the programs. A 140-page section presents responses to the questions, tabulated for all the colleges combined and also for the individual colleges according to training program. A final eight-page section presents the author's summary and conclusions in the form of statements with accompanying references to the appropriate tables. Comments and recommendations cover the following topics: employment status and experience, opinions of colleges and training programs, recommendations for improvement of programs, and continuing education experiences. The letters and questionnaire used in the survey are appended. (MS)

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

Authorization

This follow-up study is an effort on the part of the North Dakota State Board for Vocational Education to evaluate TRADE, INDUSTRIAL, and HEALTH vocational programs which are taught by institutions in North Dakota and are reimbursed for such activities by the board. The 1971 graduates were selected for this study.

Wallace M. Nordgaard, Assistant for Special Projects at the North Dakota State School of Science supervised the study details and the preparation of the final report.

The contract which authorized this study was signed in September 1974. It provided that Mr. Nordgaard, with the help of others as needed, would develop a suitable survey questionnaire, assemble the names and addresses to which the questionnaire would be sent, send the questionnaires to the graduates, analyze the data, prepare the final report, submit required reports, and provide a record of all expenditures by June 1, 1975, at the latest.

The State Board for Vocational Education agreed to provide assistance and direction, to solicit assistance and cooperation from the participating institutions, to monitor and coordinate the activities, and to fund the follow-up project.

Purpose of the Study

The purpose of this study is to gather follow-up data on the fiscal year 1971 TRADE, INDUSTRIAL, and HEALTH education graduates of post-secondary schools in North Dakota.

Information on the employment experiences of the graduates, the graduates' evaluation of the vocational programs and their recommendations for improvements may be used by the North Dakota State Board for Vocational Education in planning new programs, revitalizing on-going programs, evaluating the effectiveness of career development programs, and generating information for legislative support of vocational programs.

This study is also Phase II in the development of an effective follow-up system of North Dakota's vocational programs. Phase I, a study of Office Education and Distributive Education graduates for the fiscal year 1970 was completed in June 1974--Research Series No. 7.

Continuous student feed-back regarding vocational programs is necessary to design programs and to prepare individuals for gainful employment.

Methodology

Procedures used by those who conducted the Phase I follow-up study for Office and Distributive Education in 1974 were adopted as guidelines for the execution of all phases of this follow-up study. Some changes were made in that procedure if the nature of the study called for it.

The questionnaire used in this study was also very similar to that used in the Phase I study except for a few changes that were made that were better suited to the Trade, Industrial, and Health programs.

The similar procedures in both follow-up studies was suggested by the Director of Research for the North Dakota State Board for Vocational Education in order to attain somewhat uniform information that can be compared from year to year.

The changes that were made in this survey questionnaire as compared to the questionnaire used in Phase I survey were recommended by a special committee made up of faculty, counselors, and administrators associated with the North Dakota State School of Science. The contents of the questionnaire used in this survey may be found in the Appendix of this report.

Dr. Don Eshelby, Research Coordinator for the North Dakota State Board for Vocational Education, made the initial contact with the colleges in the study to secure their cooperation and in particular the names and current mailing addresses of the 1971 graduates who were to be asked to participate in the study. All colleges contacted graciously agreed to provide whatever help and information was needed.

Student participation in the study was encouraged by a series of four letters:

--Appendix A--

The first letter prepared on "Home College" stationery and signed by an official of the participating college asked the graduate to participate in the study.

--Appendix B--

The second letter was a form letter prepared on stationery used by the Project Director's College explained that the questionnaire enclosed with the letter was that mentioned in letter one.

--Appendix C--

If the questionnaire was not returned as a result of a second letter, a third letter and even a fourth letter was sent to the graduate to urge participation.

--Appendix D--

Letters one thru three were "Form" letters. The fourth letter was a personalized letter.

Staff members in the Project Director's office meanwhile were performing the various clerical functions that are necessary to the execution of such a project.

--Appendix E--

A "Card Record" was maintained on each graduate who was to participate in the study.

--Appendix F--

The questionnaires which were returned were examined and filed for processing by the computer people. Completed questionnaires were sent to the Data Processing Department on February 15, 1975, to be processed according to pre-determined programming.

The print-out was received on March 10. The contents of the print-out were then transferred to the format that provided the basis for the evaluations and conclusions that appear in this report.

The contents of this "Final Report" were then prepared by the Director of the Project and sent to the printer. The complete printed report became available in June 1975.

CHAPTER II

REPORT PROCEDURE ON "FINDINGS" EXPLAINED

The "Findings" of this study are summarized in a manner that will present the information in a way that will enable the participating colleges to evaluate their institution by comparison of one department with another in that institution. It will also be possible for the college to evaluate itself by comparison with the combined statistics of all colleges in the study.

There is no attempt on the part of the author of this study to point out strengths or weaknesses in the "Findings" section of the study, as this is being done in the Chapter devoted to "Conclusions, Recommendations, and Highlights".

It should be pointed out that the Percent figure is the most reliable and meaningful figure in the statistics reported herein.

One of the obvious findings that occurs in a study of this type is that some programs will have a person or two who responded with questionnaires which were completely negative for one reason or another. This is one reason why each questionnaire returned for a given department is important to that department's evaluation of itself. The questionnaires will be available to qualified persons who are evaluating programs from the contents of this study.

Five colleges with a total of forty-two departments participated in this follow-up study. "Findings" are recorded in Chapter II with sections devoted to:

1. Results of all colleges combined
2. Results of individual colleges

Please see the Table of Contents for specific page details.

SECTION I. "FINDINGS" ALL COLLEGES COMBINED

The five North Dakota post-secondary schools participating in the follow-up study identified 1,128 graduates for the year 1971. The questionnaire was completed and returned by 852, or 76% of the graduates who were asked to respond. Returns were received from the colleges as follows:

	Number Sent	Percent Sent	Number Returned	Percent Returned
Bismarck Junior College	106	10%	66	62%
Dickinson State College	17	1%	15	88%
Lake Region Junior College	105	9%	70	67%
North Dakota State School of Science	857	76%	671	78%
University of North Dakota Williston	43	4%	30	70%
Total	1,128	100%	852	76%

"Findings" that will follow are the answers to the questions that appear in this follow-up study questionnaire showing the summarized responses to such questions for all of the colleges combined.

Part I: GENERAL INFORMATION

Question 1

When did you graduate from your vocational program?

various month 1971 year

Question 2

Sex: 575--67% male 277--33% female

Question 3

Present Age in years:

9--1% 21 150--18% 22 274--33% 23 122--15% 24 262--32% Over 24

Question 4

If you are NOT CURRENTLY EMPLOYED, check the statement that best indicates the reason why. (Check one) REMEMBER FARMING IS CONSIDERED AS BEING EMPLOYED.

NOTE Since 125--15% of the graduates indicated that they were not currently employed, it is assumed that the other 727--85% were employed.

1. 7-- 6% Attending School (non-vocational program)
2. 8-- 6% Attending School (vocational program)

11. Pregnancy
12. Military Service
13. Salary
14. Laid-off
15. Moved to a different geographical area
16. Inadequate vocational preparation
17. Other

NOTE The most common reasons for leaving a job or changing positions are the sixteen reasons listed above. As you examine the report on this question that follows, it should be pointed out that the percentage figure associated with the listed results is based on the total reasons checked for all four job categories.

1. Disagreement with employer -- None

CHAPTER III

ANALYSIS, CONCLUSIONS, RECOMMENDATIONS AND HIGHLIGHTS

The response to all questions that appeared in the questionnaire were summarized in a manner that made it easy to evaluate the returns.

It is the purpose of this chapter to point out results, details, or highlights of this study that were observed by the author of the report.

The source of the information upon which the author based his thinking is identified by the page numbers given at the close of the comment on each item.

THE AUTHOR'S ANALYSIS, CONCLUSIONS, RECOMMENDATIONS

AND HIGHLIGHTS ARE AS FOLLOWS:

1. Number Questionnaires Returned Exceeds Goal

The goal was at least a 65% return of questionnaires. We were thrilled by the 76% return with 17 or 42% of the 40 programs being surveyed exceeding the 65% goal.

The percent returns was highest for the North Dakota State School of Science--the college employed to make the study, as 76% of their students returned the questionnaire. It must follow that the college responsible for the study will probably get the best return from its students.

For some unknown reason students who completed the Welding program in all colleges participating had a low level of return.

Refer to: Pages 6, 15, 38, 50, 73, 129

2. Few Women in Trade-Technical Programs in 1971

Only two women graduated from the Trade-Technical programs that are normally associated with men--one in the Welding Trade and one in Architectural Drafting.

Women should be encouraged and even urged to examine Trade-Technical programs that have been traditionally associated with men, because many firms are seeking female employees for such positions in order to comply with labor regulations.

Four of the five colleges involved in this follow-up study have a program in Practical Nursing, a field that is traditionally associated with women. Of the 277 women who returned the questionnaire, 216 or 78% were trained in Practical Nursing. One would think that such a large number of graduates each year would soon saturate the profession in a low population state of North Dakota, but it has not done so nor is it expected to do so. Men should be encouraged to enter this field.

The greatest number of men who graduated from any one program in 1971 was in Auto Mechanics, a Trade program taught in four of the five colleges participating in the study. Of the 575 men who returned the questionnaire, 87 or 15% were trained in Auto Mechanics. Another 53 or 9% were trained in Diesel Mechanics.

Refer to: Pages 6, 16, 38, 51, 74, 129

3. Age an Interesting Detail

The "Age" statistics on 1971 graduates should be of interest to those who are involved in recruiting enrollment.

The reason for pointing out this fact is that over 55% of the graduates were very young at the time of enrollment in college--probably just out of high school. The other 45% were probably out of high school a year or two before starting college.

Refer to: Pages 6, 16, 38, 51, 75, 129

4. Number Currently Employed and Unemployed

While 15% of those who returned the questionnaire stated that they were presently unemployed, the fact is that only 4% of that number were actively seeking work.

It would appear from this study that a 15% unemployment would be close to normal in such a study, because the two colleges that varied greatly from this percentage were colleges having a heavy percentage of women enrolled in Practical Nursing. Since marriage is the greatest reason for being unemployed--31%, it is reasonable to assume that the percent of women involved will influence the unemployed statistics of colleges.

Refer to: Pages 7, 16, 39, 51, 75, 130

5. Reason for Being Unemployed

Marriage is by far the most common reason for being unemployed--31%. The second most important reason is seasonal employment. There was not a single person who checked "Lack of Job Skills" as the reason for being unemployed.

Refer to: Pages 7, 16, 39, 51, 75, 130

6. Nature of Employment Status

Returns indicate that 75% of the students are employed as wage earners, 5% self-employed, 4% in the Military Service, 7% homemakers, 7% farming, and 2% miscellaneous.

Refer to: Pages 7, 17, 39, 52, 77, 130

7. Number Employed in Career Field

Probably the most alarming statistics appearing in this report are those related to "Employment as associated with the training program taken".

The returns indicate that 83% of the 1971 graduates found their first job in the field for which they were trained. Four years later only 68% were so employed.

This means that 16% changed careers. This statistic is not too bad, but the fact that 13 of the 42 departments participating in this study had 50% or more graduates who were not working in the occupation for which they were trained is a serious situation that should be examined carefully.

Refer to: Pages 7, 18, 40, 53, 78, 131

8. Reason For Not Working in an Occupation Related to Training Programs Taken

There are three main reasons why graduates are not working in the occupation for which they were trained: (1) could not find a job in that field (2) could not earn enough money in that field (3) employed farming. These three reasons account for 58% of those who are not employed in their career field.

Refer to: Pages 8, 18, 40, 53, 78, 131

9. Geographical Location of Job

Most students seek employment near home when looking for their first job. The 1971 graduates were reasonably successful in fulfilling this desire as 65% of them found work in North Dakota.

Training programs in which more than 50% of the graduates found employment out of North Dakota were Architectural Drafting, Dental Hygiene, Electronics, General Machinist, Mechanical Systems Design, and Radio TV Repair.

The importance of location in employment is confirmed by those who participated in this study, because "location" was one of the main reasons for changing employment.

Returns for this study indicate that 4% of the persons who changed jobs left the State of North Dakota.

Refer to: Pages 8,9,19, 22, 40, 42, 54, 57, 80, 85, 131, 134

10. Reasons For Changing Jobs

Sixty-five percent of those participating in this study have changed jobs at least once.

People change jobs for various reasons. In this study, the greatest number left their first job for advancement or a more desirable geographical location. The greatest number left their second job for the same reason as the first job.

Four reasons account for most persons leaving their third job:

(1) Dissatisfaction with work (2) opportunity for advancement (3) laid off (4) moved to a more desirable geographical area.

The main reasons for leaving the fourth job were: (1) advancement (2) salary (3) laid off (4) location.

It is pleasing to note neither salary or lack of training were much of a factor in changing jobs. Most important appears to be advancement and location.

Refer to: Pages 10, 24, 42, 58, 91, 135

11. Salary First Job Compared to Present Salary

The easiest way to compare the first salary with the present salary is to show what happened between 1971 and 1975.

Salary Range	First Job	Present Job	Change
$249 or less per month	6%	4%	- 2%
$250 to $374 per month	28%	7%	-21%
$375 to $499 per month	32%	15%	-17%
$500 to $624 per month	25%	22%	- 3%
$625 to $749 per month	6%	15%	+ 9%
$750 to $874 per month	1%	12%	+11%
$875 to $999 per month	1%	8%	+ 7%
$1,000 or more per month	1%	17%	+16%

The highlight of this detail is that in 1971 only 9 graduates were making over $1,000 per month. Four years later 124 were making more than $1,000 per month.

Fifty percent of those participating in this study are presently earning from $500 to $875 per month. Twenty-six percent are earning less, and 25% more than this amount.

The three occupations having the highest percentage of students earning over $1,000 per month are Electrical Technology, Electronic Technology, and General Machinist.

Refer to: Pages 8, 10, 21, 27, 56, 62, 82, 97, 133, 137

12. Source of First Job

It is evident that student initiative is highly important in finding employment, because 54% of the students found their own job. The College Placement Service was the second best source of help as 18% of the students got their jobs thru that service. It would appear that "College Vocational Instructors" could become more helpful in the overall placement activity.

Refer to: Pages 9, 21, 41, 44, 56, 84, 133

13. Use of Training

Sixty-five percent of those reporting state that they use their vocational training frequently. However, there are 14 departments in the study in which more than 50% of the students stated they did not have frequent use for their training. Those departments should examine all details of the questionnaires returned for their department to determine why this condition exists.

Refer to: Pages 12, 33, 41, 47, 68, 120, 141

14. Did Training Meet Expectations

If over 50% of the students in a department indicate that the training activities in the department were not good, that department should evaluate its operation carefully--something is wrong. There are five departments that have such a problem.

Refer to: Pages 12, 33, 48, 68, 121, 142

15. Would you Chose the Same Career Again

There are 9 departments out of a total of 42 in which more than 50% of those reporting state that they would not choose the same career program again. Those departments should do an in depth study to determine why this lack of appreciation for the program exists.

Refer to: Pages 12, 34, 48, 69, 122, 142

16. Opinion of College Attended

Returns indicate that 94% of those who responded were completely happy with the college that they attended and would recommend the college to those seeking similar training.

Refer to: Pages 13, 34, 48, 69, 123, 142

17. Opinion of Training Program

If 25% to 30% of the graduates state a training program is not adequate, then that program should be examined carefully for weaknesses. There are 6 such programs that need such attention. Most such programs have a low enrollment. It is conceivable that the low enrollment is the result of poor instruction.

Refer to: Pages 13, 35, 48, 70, 124, 142

18. Recommended Improvement in Training Programs

If 30% or more former students recommend a type of improvement, the department involved should be sincerely interested in determining why this recommendation has been suggested. There are six departments in which former students have indicated that "Training should be more like the real job." There is one department where 40% of the students say that "Training should prepare one for several jobs".

There is one department in which 34% of the students state that "Training should involve a greater variety of classroom activity".

There are two departments in which 30% of the students state that "Training equipment should be more like that used in business".

There are two departments in which 30% or more of the students state "That course content must be up-dated".

Refer to: Pages 13, 14, 35, 48, 70, 124, 143

19. Continuing Education Activities

Two things stand out with regard to "Continuing Education Activities". One is that out of the 852 students who returned the questionnaire, there were 704 activity checks--almost an average of one per student. The conclusion is that there is participation.

The other fact is that "Work Shops and Seminars" are by far the most popular form of Continuing Education Activity and accounts for 38% of the participation.

Refer to: Pages 13, 36, 49, 71, 126, 143

20. How Much Help Was Vocational Training in Various Work Related Situations

If one-third of the respondents in a given department indicate that none or little help was given with regard to a given item, then that detail should be given careful thought by the departments so identified.

Taking the items as they appear in the question, the following results need evaluation and study by some departments:

1. Finding a job	9 Departments
2. Applying for a job	18 Departments
3. Interviewing for a job	16 Departments
4. Employer-employee relations	29 Departments
5. Knowing how to use tools and equipment	7 Departments
6. Using time and energy	14 Departments
7. Broadening knowledge of career field	2 Departments
8. Performing certain job tasks	3 Departments
9. Getting along with the public	25 Departments
10. Working with fellow workers	16 Departments
11. Making decisions	14 Departments
12. Managing time efficiently	16 Departments
13. Satisfactory job performance	7 Departments
14. Discovering a vocational interest	15 Departments
15. Developing more personal independence and self-reliance	11 Departments
16. Adjusting to changing work situations	18 Departments
17. Increasing your earning power	12 Departments
18. Increasing your potential for promotion	19 Departments
19. Holding a job	13 Departments

Refer to: Pages 20, 12, 28, 45, 63, 101, 138

21. Authors Recommendation to Department Chairperson

In the study of the facts that have been reported and tabulated herein, the author of the report could detect that some departments were weaker than the average from the details that were reported.

These departments will not be named as such in this report, but each chairperson whose department is participating in the follow-up study should compare his information with the information reported for other departments for purposes of evaluation.

Each college will be given the completed questionnaires that have been returned by its former students. This will enable those staff members who are sincerely interested in the study to make a careful evaluation of the facts reported. It is especially important that departments that appear to have weaknesses make a thorough study of the information reported for those departments.

ALERT LETTER

(Letterhead Stationery from Graduate's Alma Mater)

Date

Miss Jane Doe
530 North 4th Street
Fargo, North Dakota 58102

Dear Miss Doe:

Your class--graduates of the Class of 1971--has been selected by your ALMA MATER to participate in a "Study Project" that is being done for several colleges by the North Dakota State Board for Vocational Education.

The purpose of the "Study" is to evaluate the Trade, Technical, and Health-Related training programs in several colleges. Have they accomplished their objective which to most graduates was employment? Did the skills, knowledge, work habits, and attitudes learned in the training process enable them to obtain employment and to enjoy a successful work experience?

The information that you will provide will be used to improve vocational training programs. Research has shown that those who have had several years of work experience are best qualified to evaluate the impact and effectiveness of a training program. It is for this reason that your particular class was selected.

The Special Projects Department of the North Dakota State School of Science will coordinate the "Study". W. M. Nordgaard, Assistant Special Projects, will be in charge of the various details of the project.

When you receive the "Study Questionnaire" from him, please respond promptly. You will be doing us a very big favor.

Sincerely yours,

Signed: College Administrator

To Whom It May Concern:

Subject: North Dakota State Department For Vocational Education--Follow-Up Study

Some time ago, you received a letter from the college from which you graduated in which you were asked to participate in a follow-up study that is being conducted by the North Dakota State Board for Vocational Education in behalf of several colleges in the State. The questionnaire mentioned in that letter is enclosed.

Please complete the questionnaire at your earliest convenience and return it to me in the enclosed post-paid envelope.

You will recall that our previous letter pointed out the purpose of the study--to obtain information about the job history of graduates to determine (1) whether or not they are using their skills (2) whether or not these skills were sufficient to obtain a job and (3) what recommendations they would suggest to improve the program from which they graduated.

Be assured that your answers will be confidential. Thank you for your cooperation.

Sincerely,

W. M. Nordgaard
Assistant Special Projects

COVER LETTER TO SECOND MAILING OF QUESTIONNAIRE

(Letterhead Stationery from the North Dakota State School of Science)

Date

To Whom It May Concern:

You will recall that your class was selected to help those colleges which offer "Vocational-Type Training Programs" in North Dakota to evaluate those programs. We are pleased to report that we have had an excellent response to our request for such help, but we feel that the evaluation will be much more valid if we hear from all of the former students in the Class of 1971.

It is the purpose of this letter to inform you that our records indicate that our previous letters were delivered to you, but the questionnaire has not been returned. There could be a number of reasons for such an oversight.

Whatever the reason may be, it is hoped that you will respond to this letter promptly. We are told that it takes between 15 and 20 minutes to complete and mail the questionnaire.

We sincerely appreciate your help in this follow-up study.

Sincerely yours,

W. M. Nordgaard

PERSONALIZED LETTER URGING PARTICIPATION

(Letterhead Stationery from the North Dakota State School of Science)

Date

Ms. Arlys Gravseth
502 29th N. Apt. 2
Fargo, ND 58102

Dear Ms. Gravseth,

This letter is a sincere plea for your help. You will recall that this office has sent you three letters in which you were asked to assist us with a "Follow-Up Study on 1971 graduates." That study is not going to be valid unless we have close to 100% participation.

You are one of the few 1971 graduates who have not yet returned the Follow-Up Questionnaire. Two have been sent to you. We hope that you can locate one of the questionnaires, fill it out, and return it to us before February 1, 1975.

If you have misplaced the previous questionnaire, please return this letter with a note at the bottom requesting that another questionnaire be sent to you for your use.

For your information, the Placement Office of your college will be informed of your present location and job, so that this information will be available to them in case some exceptionally good job comes along in the field for which you have been trained and employed and in which only experienced persons can qualify. The Placement Office could then inform you of such jobs.

We shall be very grateful for your prompt attention to this urgent request for help. A postpaid envelope is enclosed to make it convenient for you to do so.

Sincerely yours,

W. M. Nordgaard
Assistant Special Projects
